The classroom management for the occasional teacher workshop includes a variety of strategies and activities that deal with issues critical to occasional teachers and their work, both as LTO teachers and other specific assignments such as special education, core French, and daily work. The program has expanded its format with a greater emphasis on reflective practice and teacher professional judgment. Teachers receive practical classroom-tested strategies as well as networking opportunities with other occasional teachers.

The goals of the series are to:

- Assist in the development of predictable classroom routines;
- Determine how to empower students through self-discipline and responsibility;
- Explore effective classroom management strategies; and
- Review the correlation between instructional practice and classroom management.

We look forward to seeing you there!
